THE TIMES.

A. H. CLEMENT Editor.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 21, 1906.

Now that Mr. Roosevelt has said and we believe he means just what he says, that he will not be a candidate for re-election, the question as to a successor becomes interesting. Hughes has leaped into prominence and Taft seems always on hand. Cannon having been returned to Congress by an increased majority no doubt hears the buzz of the bee. The Democrats can beat either one of them, that is if an insignificant minority does'nt insist on ruin or rule.

Anti-Hearst folks had a fit when they learned that Chicago had gone 'agin' Hearst, and now all Chicago has a fit because a negro has been elected to preside in one of her courts. The problem widens, and broadens, and deepens. Chickens are at home and roosting low. The white Republicans of Chicago are urging the negro to decline the honor and the negroes are urging him to stick. We will watch the outcome with wide-awake interest.

The people of the State will not be the least bit satisfied with the investigation of the Eastern Hospital. The members of the committee seem to be moved by passion rather than sober reason and their widely differing conclusions are without weight. Let the committee be discharged from further consideration of the subject and a new one designated for the very important work.

Mr. Roosevelt, as he was leaving the wharf at Washington for his visit to Panama, saluted some friends who were standing on the shore with the remark, "I am going to look after the digging of that ditch." Better for Mr. President to stay at home and look after the mending of the high ways of your own country. There is reason in the one course and foolishness in the other.

"Use the spittoons" was the notice we read recently on the walls of a United States post office building for, as was added "spitting on the floor is a menance to good health." Isn't the use of the Spittoon just as much of a menace? Remove them and enforce rigidly the anti-spitting laws that are openly and defiantly broken.

The President telegraphed his congratulations to young "Nick" and concluded by saying, "we seem to have done well all along the line." This may be true from his standpoint, but he cannot satisfy himself that he does well in shutting the door of the Cabinet and of the Supreme Court in the face of the entire South.

There was a money stringency in Wall Street and the Secretary of the treasury went to the relief of the gauntless. There always is a money stringency among the farmers and there has never been a suggestion of Government relief. Of Wall Street, by Wall Street and for Wall Street is the new version.

Say what you will about the yellowishness of Hearst's New York paper but those who read them will agree that its Sunday editorials are of high order of merit. They are secular sermons pregnant with restraining and at the same time uplifting power.

Mr. Hughes was a useful citizen in the private walks of life, but mark the prediction, he is going to leave the Governor's office in disfavor. Weaver yielded to his environments. "Lead us not into temptation" is a God-given form of prayer.

The wonder is that Mr. Bryan would ever want to be candidate again. He is too much of a world-character to be cribbed and confined within the narrow limits of a party platform.

Mr. Roosevelt may be as ready to defy third-term president as he was the law which forbids a President going to foreign territory during his term of office.

With Hearst out of the race Bryan has the right of way, but there is the Richmond Times-Dispatch obstructing the track and how can he hope to win?

Moody on the bench means no income tax, the most righteous form of tax known to man.

Evergreen.

After a silence of three weeks I will give you a few items.

Since last I wrote our community has been sad lened by the death of our beloved physician Dr. J. H. Abbitt. Dr. Abbitt had many friends at Evergreen who lament his untimely death, yet we believe he is in the "land where partings are not known."

Mrs. Edmond Cawthorn and sisters Misses Mazie and Alma McDearmon were in the Hill City recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jennings, of Roanoke, have been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cawthorn, of this place.

Mr. E. H. Cawthorn was in Lynchburg Monday.

Miss Oddlie Ince is the guest of Mrs. Joe Inge this week.

Mr. J. D. Cawthorn spent a few days in Roanoke last week, as the guest of his daughter Mrs. John C. Jennings.

WHY A FARMER SHOULD KEEP A BANK ACCOUNT.

Farmers as a rule do not keep books of acc unts. Their accounts therefore, on the ledger of a bank will afford them a complete record of all their important transactions, involving the payment or receipt of money. A cancelled check, when returned by the bank, at the end of the month, constitutes the safest receipt one can have for showing the payment of money. Paying a laborer, a store account, or any other bills, with a check drawn on a bank, is safer than using money: because the person receiving the check must endorse it and the check should be preserved as a receipt.

Money deposited in a bank is not so easily or so often "F-oled away" as when carried away in ones pocket. Try the experiment for one year of keeping a bank account and see if it does not pay you.

A large number of the most reliable farmers, in this section, have accounts with us. We are very desirous of having the accounts of farmers on our books an we will be glad to furnish, at any time, whatever information we can in regard to the subject of banking.

The persons who open accounts with us are furnish check books free of cost.

When you are in Lynchburg call in and inspect our new banking room.

A few days ago while Mrs. Thos. Perry was attending to the milking of her cows, she discovered a large buck among the cattle attracted the attention of the dog. The deer walked about with the cattle until Mr. Harvey came away for nearly a mile and got him and killed it.

SAVED MY LIFE

That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago. As a rule we don't refer to testimonials in addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note. Consumption of old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying impaired and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is not like a secret than the opposition of the Emulsion itself. What it does does through nourishment—the kind of nourishment that cannot be obtained in ordinary food. If system is too weak or delicate to retain Scott's Emulsion and gather good from it.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Mr. Chas. T. Evans will be married to-day to Miss Imogen Clarke, daughter of Mr. J. L. Clarke, a prominent farmer in this county. Mr. Evans is the senior member of the mercantile firm of Evans and Cheatham, Evergreen. Both of the parties are prominently connected and have a wide circle of friends.

Jennings—Cawthorn.

On Wednesday Novem er 14th, the home of Mr. J. D. Cawthorn was the scene of a pretty marriage, when his daughter, Miss Ella Cawthorn became the bride of Mr. Samuel Jennings. The parlor was beautfully decorated, while the lights cast a soft glow over all. Promptly at twelve o'clock, to the strains of the 'Wedding March' played by Mrs. Willie Brightwell of Pamplin, the bridal party entered the parlor. First came Misses Alice Cheatham and Clare Ferguson, wearing white dresses and ribbons each carrying a lighted candle. The bride, who was tast-fully dressed in a gray cloth suit, with hat and gloves to match, carrying a lovely toquet of carnations and ferns, came with her maid of honor, Miss Mary Hamilton, who also wore a gray suit with hat and gloves to match. The groom entered with his best man, Mr. Hector Cawthorn. The Rev P. T. Warren, in a very impressive manner performed the ceremony. Immediately after the ceremony they went to the station, where amid many congratulations and showers of rice, they boarded the west bound train for a trip to Columbus, Ohio.

The bride, who is a very attractive young lady, has a wide circle of friends, who wish her much happiness. The groom is a promising young conductor for the N. & W. Ry.

CIRCUIT COURT ADJOURNS.

A. H. Clement is fined $100.

Circuit Court adjourned Thursday evening after a busy term.

The following grand jury attended:

Milton Isbell, J. R. Atwood, W. H. Childress, J. W. Durrum, J. A. Stratton, N. R. Featherstone, H. G. Harding, J. D. Bondurant, C. H. Coleman, E. E. Chism and T. O. Davidson. The following indictments were returned:

A. H. Clement, felony; true bill.

James McCoy, felonious shooting; true bill.

Alex. Semmons, felonious assault; true bill.

Alex. Semmons, felonious cutting; true bill.

All of the cases were continued except that of A. H. Clement, who asked for an immediate trial. The following cases were also continued:

Wilbur, James and Dave McCoy, James Hancock and Homsey Lewis

Com. vs Douglas Mason, appeal from Mayor's decision of Pamplin City; dismissed on grounds of unconstitutionality of charter of said town.

Chas. Hindley took out notarialization papers.

Court refused to grant petition of Mrs. Lula Hunter for reduction of the assessmen of her land in the village. Later the order was set aside and the application continued to next court.

The court appoints Dr. J. B. Abbitt a member of the county medical board.

Com. vs A. H. Clement; first indictment with drawn. Grand jury resumed session and reported true bill for felonious shooting with intent to kill.

Also indicted J. C. Beecham on nine indictments for selling liquor, and Willie White, one indictment for selling liquor.

Joseph R. Case was relieved from the payment of taxes erroneously assessed against him.

Haden vs Cardwell, appeal from Justice Moses; Attachment quashed and Cardwell given possession of mule.

Muster Roll of Company H. 22nd Va. Cavalry ordered recorded.

Walter Payne and W. J. Paris were appointed special policemen—the former for Pamplins and the latter for Appomattox.

The following jury was empanelled to try the case against A. H. Clement:

W. T. Caldwell, L. R. Richardson, J. R. Lee, Otis M. Gilham, G. E. Drinkard, T. A. Caldwell, Wm. E. Dickerson, J. N. Woolridge, H. E. Whitaker, Geo. D. Wilkerson, E. M. Drinkard and Walker Harvey.

Mr. A. E. Strode, who appeared for Mr. Clement took the ground that he had been tried and fined for the offense in court over relied and exceptions noted. Judge Wm. Smith, of Cumberland and Congressman H. D. Flood prosecuted the accused vigorously. The Congressman appearing as a witness on the stand, advisor, and finally closing the argument. Mr. Hubbard, who prosecuted at the Magistrate's court was detained at home by the illness of his wife.

The witnesses for the Commonwealth appeared to be as follows:

R. E. Haga, T. B. Carson, J. R. Horsley, T. J. Stratton, J. P. Alvis, S. L. Ferguson, W. F. Wright, O. L. Haga, J. J. Durrum, W. A. Moses, R. C. Main, J. C. Jones and Tom Ferguson.

Witnesses for the defence were Ellis Simms, Robt. Furbush, Raleigh Chilton and Frank Jones. The accused has never denied the shooting and stated then and does so now that if ever a man had a right to shoot another he (Clement) had the right to shoot Ferguson.

S. L. Ferguson testified substantially as follows: "I had been to Lynchburg to purchase a Mackinaw. Stopped at Wood's bought house. I afterwards bought it. I de a brother by the same name; there were one or more sisters, names not known; the father was twice married. His wives names not known; the father died before the war, at which time the brother was married.
